COMMUNIQUE

The National War Front Organisation was set up in Mysore during August 1942 at a time when the war had taken an unfavourable turn to the Allies and when it was considered necessary to maintain public morale by keeping the public correctly informed of the facts concerning the progress of war, by timely contradiction of unformulated and alarming rumours, by counteracting enemy propaganda, by inculcating courage and confidence in the people and by such other measures as were necessary to combat defeatism and strengthen the will of the people to resist aggression and to achieve victory.

A large number of public-spirited non-officials joined the organisation and carried out with success the work voluntarily undertaken by them. They were in a large measure responsible for dispelling rumour and panic, in the initial stages.

With the change in the war situation and the steadily mounting offensive of the United Nations, appeals to the public needed a shift of emphasis from the danger of invasion to the discomforts and restrictions of war life. The members of the organisation helped Government in matters relating to Civil Defence, problems of Food Supplies, Grow More Food Campaign, Promotion of Savings, administration of controls and other utility schemes.

Government wish to place on record their appreciation of the valuable work done by non-officials all over the State, in achieving the objects of the Organisation and trust that the services of these public-spirited citizens would, if required, be readily available in future in popularising postwar measures of welfare and reconstruction.

By Order,

J. B. MALLABADHYA, Addl. Secy.
